House Of Korba: The Ghost Bird Series: #7 (The Academy Ghost Bird Series)

Synopsis

It's homecoming week at Ashley Waters, but Sang Sorenson has a lot more on her mind than dresses and crowns. Silas's troubled past—full of secrets he and his team thought they'd buried—comes back to haunt him, threatening to ruin everything. Silas tries to deal, but guilt weighs heavily on him and Sang realizes she might be the only one who can help him keep it together. Bomb threats have increased. They are followed at every turn. The principal is resorting to drastic measures to make sure they're all going to be kicked out. Pushed to their limits, Kota, Victor, Silas, Nathan, Gabriel, Luke and North, along with other members of the Academy, have finally had enough. This time, more Academy members are brought in to help hunt down the culprit, and keep everyone safe. It'll cost the boys, but in the end, even a bittersweet victory is better than disaster. This time, they're getting what they need. All it takes is learning the line of when to let go, and when to never give up. The Academy, Together

Customer Reviews

I've been a fan of The Academy since New Years at which time I binged and read all available Academy books and desperately looked forward to the next book. The books are well written and always leave you wanting more, House of Korba included. I will say that the urgency, the desperate need to read the next book is declining. I wouldn't have known this book was coming out but for my recommendations. The fact that the next book in the series isn't scheduled to come out until April of next year bothers me. From what I've read the author has plans for 20+ books in this series. If the books come out every 6 months, I honestly can't see myself reading this series 5+ years from now. Sang and the boys at this rate will still be in their sophomore year of high school! The momentum is waning. I still like the books but since the next one is so far away I won't be counting down the days and maybe I'll buy it, maybe I won't. Sorry.

I have been a huge fan of this series for over a year and have anticipated every book that CL has released, this one was no exception. I preordered it, stayed up till it was released and read it in one sitting. Like I've done with her last 3 books. The concept of this series is amazing. I love Sang and the guys (Mr. Blackbourne is my favorite.) Unfortunately this book kinda let me down. It was rushed, and there's so much going on that it left me feeling confused of my feelings for the series. Also, I don't like bringing in characters from her other books. In my honest opinion CL, I think you should give up the SB series, and focus on this one. Especially since you plan on there being over 20 books of this with only putting out 2 a year. Wrap up the school issues and move on in the story. The love connection, her family issues, Sang joining the academy, there's so much left to cover, but by releasing two books a year, only covering a week per book, you're going to lose fans, and I'd hate to see that happen.

I feel like this series is stalling a bit. Sang is supposed to be smart but she still can't tell if the guys she's been hanging around with, night and day like her? She can't be that blind to how boys and girls act around someone they like. Even she knew the difference whether or not her so called "mother" liked her or her sister better when she was getting abused. Let's stop slow rolling with the characters relationships between each other. The readers will still want to read the series when they all hook up. How about finishing up this plot? What is this book 7 and the story can't be wrapped up? It would be nice to read about other adventures with the guys and other possible missions. I mean even the Nancy Drew series solved their crimes each book. I'm seriously contemplating of not wasting any more time and money. C.L. Stone you've created great characters but you got to move on with these story lines. I don't know if you're running out of ideas, maybe your not passionate about writing right now, maybe you need a co-writer or need to take a break and get motivated; who knows maybe you do know what you're doing. At least take a poll or get some real responses to what people want to see happen. I know you have your own creative process but sometimes one just needs to step back and take a good look at the over picture. Please finish this plot and move to a new future with Sang and her boys. Think of all the possibilities...I know I am...

Have you ever read a series that you have a love/hate relationship with? For me, that series is The Academy by C.L Stone. It is one of those series where I can't read them all back to back as I will get all frustrated but they are also a series I find that I can't put down though sometimes I want too. House of Korba is Book #7 and gives us readers a further look into the Korba family which for those who are unaware is Silas's family. We learn how he came to be in the Academy and what favors were pulled to get his family away from Greece. Like many families, the Korba's have a few skeletons in their closets, and if they aren't careful, it looks like one major one will be exposed to the world. Sang is still bouncing between the boys and though looks like Silas is not afraid to go for what he wants. Like all of the CL Stone The Academy books, I do like the boys but Sang annoys me sometimes. It's like you want to shake her and be like grow a pair or a backbone. Tell the boys you want to date them all and love them all and stuff society and conventions. It's always like Sang has to be led to make decisions and then when she wants to get all up in the boy's business - it's like she is assertive but not with what she wants. The other thing that annoyed me with this one was North. It's like who freaking cares if the others have made their moves if you love her then do it already. Come on everyone where is your assertiveness as HELLO; you have been trained at the Academy. You have done dangerous missions, so stop wimping around Sang. BE ASSERTIVE. While we are it with the nicknames, seriously Dr. Green - Pookie? We are not living in the olden days haha. I am curious to see who Volto ends up being though and what is next move is. One thing though I thought while reading this book was that I want Sang's steampunk costume. If you want a good Reverse Harem series to read, then check out The Academy by C.L Stone.
