David Adler was born April 10, 1947. He graduated Queens College in 1968 with a BA in economics and education and licenses to teach mathematics and history. He then worked for nine years as a New York City mathematics teacher. While teaching he studied at New York University and in 1971 was awarded an MBA in marketing. He began work on a PhD in marketing when inspiration struck and he wrote his first book, A LITTLE AT A TIME (Random House, 1976). Suddenly his focus changed from marketing to writing. In 1973 he married Renee Hamada, a psychologist, and in 1977 their first child, Michael was born. By that time David had written several books. He was granted a child-care leave from teaching and while Renee continued her work, David stayed home, took care of Michael, and wrote in earnest. It was during his first year on leave that he wrote CAM JANSEN AND THE MYSTERY OF THE STOLEN DIAMONDS. David's ANDY RUSSELL series was inspired by another family member and the many adventures the family had with his enthusiasm and his pets. He lives in New York State.Â www.davidaadler.com. John Wallner has illustrated many titles in

David A. Adler's Picture Book Biography series. He lives in Maine. Alexandra Wallner's Lucy Maude Montgomery was called "gracefully written and prettily presented" by Kirkus Reviews. She is a graduate of the Pratt Institute and is known for her vivid folk art paintings. She lives in Mexico.

My seven year-old really enjoyed this book. The illustrations are so nice, as well as the history of Washington's life. We will read it again ... great addition to our home library.

Not for 4-5 year olds. Text is great, great for 2nd graders

My son had a book report for first grade on George Washington and this book gave us all the biography information we needed for the report. I was hoping for more fun facts or cool stories, but for first grade, the book was basic and perfect for the book report. Plan to keep for the next child going through first grade.

Great book to teach first graders about George Washington. The story is clear and easy for a first grader to understand. Great teaching tool!

Nice book.

My Grandson just went to Washington D.C. He saw Washington's Monument and the Lincoln Memorial. These books were neat

Awesome!

Very good start to historical knowledge. Very interesting facts are included in the book. Children will love to read this and to even act it out.
