great I just would rather use these than making copies to practice on

I was looking to buy a "workbook" of sorts, something like the phonics workbooks we had as kids of the 80's. Based on the images of the book, I was assuming it was ~132 pages of lined paper that had one example at the front of the line, and then blank space throughout the rest of it. This would have given many different examples and strokes to practice. This is not the case - the first few pages have tool descriptions and uses, a few basic alphabets to try, and then after that, it is lined and ruled grids on paper, for over 100 pages. This doesn't make it bad - it just wasn't what I was looking for. I purchased it on sale for 5 bucks, and that's actually cheaper than what a Southworth calligraphy pad will cost, and the paper grade is similar feeling, though not exactly the same. If for nothing else, you have a few lined sheets of paper that you don't need to grid out yourself.

Great work, very easy to use!
