Time Out Shortlist Delhi

Synopsis

Time Out Shortlist Delhi, written by a team of local journalists, will help guide travelers through this cosmopolitan melting pot of over 12 million people. The wide array of options in both "Old" and "New" Delhi, are covered in a wide range of topics from tourist sites, such as Red Fort, mosques and museums to navigating the shopping bazaars that abound. The wide array of settlers to this political and economic hub of northern India have resulted in a variety of culinary and nightlife options as well.

Customer Reviews

"They're so up to date that even the locals will be asking you where it's at." Red "To make sure you're up to date with the latest cutting-edge hotspots, check out the new Shortlist series from Time Out." Wanderlust

Founded in 1968, Time Out has grown from humble beginnings into the leading resource for anyone wanting to know what's happening in the world's greatest cities. Alongside our influential weeklies in London, New York, Chicago and Dubai, we publish more than 20 magazines in cities as varied as Beijing and Beirut; a range of travel books, with City Guides now joined by pocket-sized Shortlist series; and an information-packed website. The company remains proudly independent, still owned by Tony Elliott four decades after he launched Time Out London. Written by local experts, and illustrated with original photography, our books also retain their independence. No business has been featured because it has advertised, and all restaurants and bars are visited and reviewed anonymously.

Great size for a pocket, but far too many ads that take up too much of the page.
